DENBIGH

From next week we will have a Lollipop Man School Crossing Patrol on Denbigh Avenue. The job of a lollipop person is to walk to the middle of the road, at a suitable time, holding up their sign; it is a legal requirement for traffic to stop at this command. Once it is safe to do so, the lollipop man will signal that it is alright to cross. We are really excited to work with North Tyneside Council on this initiative ensuring our children are safe coming in to school.

This week in Lion's maths class we have been looking at statistics and what they mean. We have considered different types of data and how it can be converted into different forms. We even drew our own pie charts!!! Way to go Lions!

Dragons tried their hand at animation this afternoon. We copied our picture across different frames, made some changes and marvelled at our creations. They looked different depending on what speed we played them at too!

This week, we talked about how some people eat pancakes on Shrove Tuesday and how pancakes were traditionally to use up rich food that was given up during Lent. We also listened to 'The Runaway Pancake' story. We then decided on our own pancake toppings before decorating, wrapping and taste testing. In our creative stations, we designed our own pancake by cutting out ingredients we would put on the top.

Year 1 have been looking at healthy and unhealthy food in our Topic this week. We have also looked at how Giuseppe Arcimboldo used fruit for his paintings and recreated his work.
